Massive Artist Decorated Royal Copenhagen Vase was Exhibited in the 1926 Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial Exposition!

Michaan's Auction in Alameda, California is thrilled to begin the New Year with a spectacular sale of more than 900 lots of fine art, jewelry, decorative art, furniture, vintage clothing, coins and Asian items.

One highly unusual item is a 25-inch blue and white porcelain vase decorated with Cows in a Landscape by Danish artist Gottred Andrew Andersen Rode. The vase was commissioned as one of Denmark's entries into the 1926 World's Fair. The fair was held in Philadelphia as the "Sesqui-Centennial Expo" and celebrated the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The jewelry department will also showcase 20th century designers: works by artists Robert Lee Morris, George Jensen, Margo DeTaxco, Bent Gabrielsen for George Jensen, Anna Greta Eker, Susan Cummings and Viviana Torun will complement the more traditional fine jewelry. The couture department features several fine custom tailored evening gowns, day dresses and blouses from the 1930s and 1940s.

Several works of fine Art Deco sculpture by Berkeley, California artist Warren DeWitt

Cheney will be offered for the first time in over 60 years. These stone and terra cotta sculptures are scale model studies for Cheney's monumental architectural work. Works by this artist are rare; he stopped working as a sculptor after the Second World War and started a new career as a psychologist. Another exciting offering is a collection of drawings from life of Isadora Duncan by Abraham Walkowitz.

The coin department has a small but select group of early US gold coins while the furniture and decorations division is pleased to American, English and Continental sterling and porcelain; contemporary American Art Glass; bronze and marble sculpture and some modern and traditional furniture.
