The Jewelry Department is excited to present a diamond, 14k white gold wedding set featuring a lovely Asscher cut diamond in the October Sale (lot 201, $6,000-9,000). The color and clarity of the 1.95 carat stone is beautiful and of high quality, accented by fifty-one full cut diamonds weighing a total of approximately 0.50 carats. Brooklyn Museum, the National Museum of American Art and the Corcoran Gallery of Art (both in Washington, D.C.) as well as the Musée d'Orsay in France.

Paying homage to the Buddhist Trinity is a Japanese cast bronze censer, exceptionally crafted in reverence and tribute to the divine deities (lot 390, $1,200-1,600). Pristinely fashioned, the bronze lid depicts the bodhisattva Samantabhadra, a symbol of Buddhist practice and meditation, seated on an elephant along with "The Awakened One of the Shakya Clan," Shakyamuni Buddha and fellow bodhisattva Manjusri, known to be a figure of transcendent wisdom. An object of spiritual relevance, the incense burning vessel was used as a ritual ceremonial object in the practice of Mahayana Buddhism in Japan. The bronze body has applications of gilding along with other precious metals as well, beautifully finishing the piece and giving it a richly regal appearance. The censer along with an exciting collection of glassware, bronzes, porcelains and ivory and jade carvings will also be offered.

From the landmark Shreve & Co. is lot 425, an Art Nouveau sterling silver punch bowl will be offered in the Furniture and Decorative Arts Section of the October Sale ($2,500-3,000). A San Francisco institution since 1852, Shreve & Co. has been a name synonymous with quality, elegance and style. As the inscription on its historic Post Street building testifies, "From the time of the Gold Rush, Shreve & Co. has been the premier jeweler in the city...It was here that Shreve & Co. exhibited the 720 carat Yonkers diamond, the jewelry of Catherine the Great of Russia and created the state of California's coronation gift to Queen Elizabeth II of England." The total silver weight of the bowl is 45.80 troy ounces, measuring 7 inches in height and 10 ¼ inches in diameter. Standing as a timeless presentation piece, it is sure to be a handsome addition to any silver collection.
